

Faculty Review of Open eTextbooks

The California Open Educational Resources Council has designed and implemented a faculty review process of the free and open etextbooks showcased within the California Open Online Library for Education (www.cool4ed.org). Faculty from the California Community Colleges, the California State University, and the University of California were invited to review the selected free and open etextbooks using a rubric. Faculty received a stipend for their efforts and funding was provided by the State of California, the William and Flora Hewlett Foundation, and the Bill and Melinda Gates Foundation.

Please provide comments on any aspect of the instructional design of this textbook:

- The textbook provides images, tables, and a number of different ways to present the material, but the colors don't consider those with colorblindness, and the presentation of the material - with text on the side of the images - is difficult to navigate through.

Overall Comments

If you were to recommend this textbook to colleagues, what merits of the textbook would you highlight?

- I would not recommend this book - Alberts, Lodish, and Weaver are all superior texts - as is Brooker Genetics. It would not be worth the sacrifice of the good writing and images in those texts -as well as their supplementary materials.

What areas of this textbook require improvement in order for it to be used in your courses?

- The images need to be improved.
- The overall layout needs improvement.
- The end of chapter questions need to be more engaging and accurate.
